

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Over-sampled data is filtered by receiving a word of over-sampled data including sample bits for each of a plurality of data bits, detecting a sample bit having one logic value and, on either side of it, bits having the opposite logic value and, upon such detection, outputting the received word with the sample bit having the one logic value

5 inverted.